COVID-19 Update and Thank You.

It has been a long several months since the spread of COVID-19 and Granite Staters continue to feel the impacts. During this time, food insecurity in NH has grown to nearly 1 in 7 men, women and children based on Map the Meal Gap and projections from research conducted by Feeding America. That is approximately 71,000 additional people who do not know where their next meal is coming from and nearly 21-23% are children.

Along with an increase in our meal production and food purchasing, the NH Food Bank has also held more than 20 drive thru mobile food pantries providing food to over 13,117 individuals across the state.

Much of our work over the past few months would not have been possible without the support and swift action taken by the NH National Guard. Since mid-April they have gone above and beyond to assist our staff in making sure that food moved as quickly and safely as possible out of our doors and into the hands of those in need. We will forever be thankful for the service they provided to us.

We also extend our gratitude to the community for coming together in so many ways to help their neighbors in need. Your thoughtful notes, donations and creative ways to help, have made such an impact on not only our work, but our spirits too.

There is still much uncertainty as to what lies ahead and with the holiday season on the horizon, we anticipate this will still be a difficult road ahead for individuals and families who are food insecure. Our efforts will continue to adapt, change and improve in order to best fit the need.

The NH Food Bank in partnership with the NH Food Alliance, NH Farm Bureau and NOFA-NH are proud to announce the pilot launch of “NH Feeding NH” a statewide initiative designed to support the purchase of NH grown food to feed our food insecure neighbors with nutritious locally grown produce, dairy and meat throughout NH communities during COVID-19 and beyond, something we believe every Granite Stater should have access to.

While unemployment continues to rise, many restaurants, schools and farmers markets are closed across the state, which also means many of our farms have lost their outlet to sell their product. This program, modeled after our neighbors in Vermont and Maine, will not only support our local farmers, but will also help nourish communities in need, reduce food waste and replenish our local economy.

The NH Food Bank has more than 400 partner agencies across the state of NH including food pantries, homeless shelters, soup kitchens, children’s programs, senior centers and more. NH Feeding NH will connect these agencies and local farmers in their area to create partnerships and provide funding to purchase more fresh, local, fruits, vegetables, dairy and more. Our agencies will then track and report success back to the NH Food Bank so that we may continue to improve and grow this program in future years. NH Tackles Hunger

WMUR’s Annual “NH Tackles Hunger” food drive to benefit families in your local communities is going virtual this year to keep everyone as safe and healthy as possible. For the last seven years, 58 high schools in NH with varsity football teams have participated. This year, all 89 high schools in New Hampshire have the option to join in.

Although we will not be collecting food as we traditionally have, you can make an even bigger impact by donating online throughout the month of September! In seven years, “NH Tackles Hunger” has collected 455,000 pounds of food which equals 380,000 meals for NH families. Right now, the need is greater than ever. We look forward to joining forces with NH schools to make a difference.

To make a donation head to: www.nhfoodbank.org/nh-tackles-hunger/

Although we cannot physically be together for this year’s Chef on the Rise, we still have the opportunity to make a BIG impact and show the community what a bunch of Chefs can do OUTSIDE of the kitchen to help end hunger.

So, grab a friend (and a mask) and take a hike - all September long! For more information contact Jayson McCarter at jmccarter@nhfoodbank.org.
